FOGO DE CHÃO

*ADDRESS: Tv. Casalbuono, 120 - 72 - Vila Guilherme - São Paulo
(there are other 5 address of Fogo de Chão in São Paulo)*

Churrasco is a Brazilian icon. So, to enjoy this delight to its fullest, you should try a Brazilian institution like Fogo de Chão. Served in the “all you can eat” style with meat being carved at the table and a salad bar to accompany, this is a good value option for enjoying Churrasco. Depending on your budget, you may prefer to order one of their massive tomahawk or T-bone steaks or a huge beef rib to share. There’s no shortage of Churrascaria in São Paulo but Fogo de Chão is budget-friendly with good quality meat on display.

FOOD

RECOMMENDATIONS

COCO BAMBU

ADDRESS: Av. Braz Leme, 201- Santana - São Paulo
(there are more than 20 address of Coco Bambu in São Paulo)

Food is one of the best in São Paulo! If you are a seafood lover, you should go there.

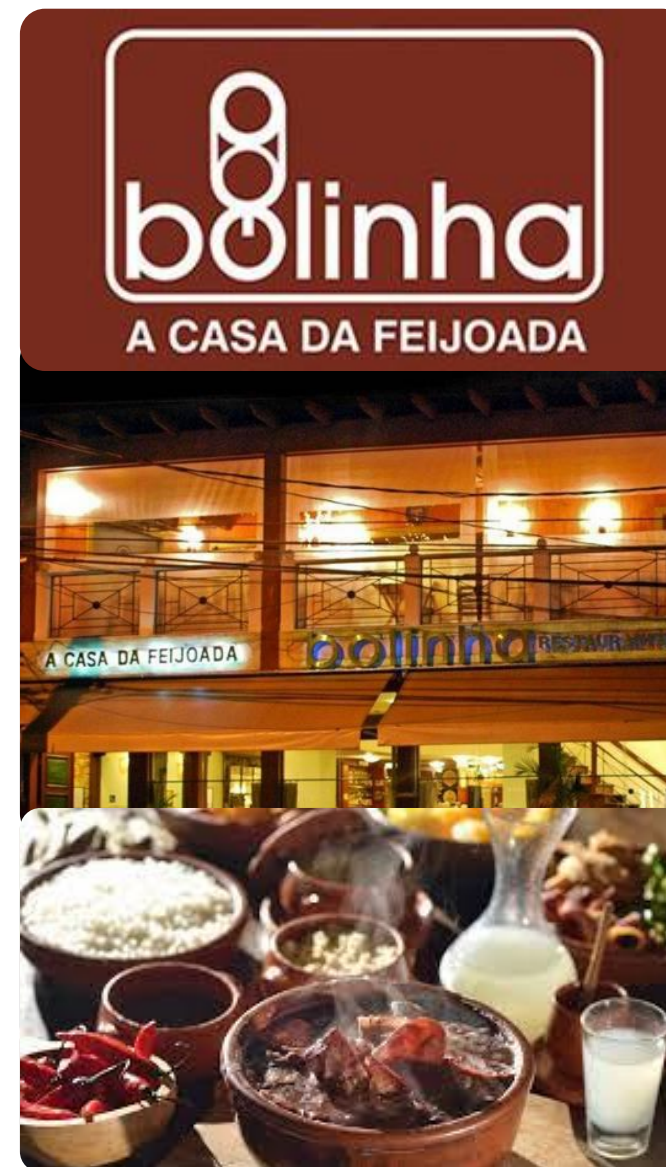

FOOD

BOLINHA

ADDRESS: Avenida Cidade Jardim, 53 Jardim Europa, Itaim Bibi, São Paulo

Need to get your Feijoada fix? Look no further than Bolinha. With several varieties of Feijoada to try, you don't need to wait for a Saturday to tuck into this hearty stew. Their traditional version has 10 cuts of pork so it truly is a hearty bowl. Servings are huge and ideal for 2 to share – and that's coming from a non-food sharer! Don't forget to have a few Caipirinhas with your feijoada too. For us, this is the best restaurant in São Paulo for lunch – because then we can take the traditional nap afterwards too.
